Annual AIM Conference

To celebrate our 10th Anniversary we are holding our Annual Conference in early spring of 2012 at the Royal College of Anaesthetists. It is to be held on the 27th of April at the Royal College of Anaesthetists, London, giving you time to book your study leave well in advance.

The programme which will follow soon and will be advertised on the AIM and AAGBI website will have knowledgeable and eminent speakers from the medical fraternity including speakers from the College sharing their thoughts, views and experiences on the managerial aspects of running a clinical service.

The Conference will benefit all grades of anaesthetists and especially those who want to gain an insight or introduction into the various management and leadership roles in the health service today.

Trainees will also have an opportunity to participate and present in the Essay Competition which will have a topic relating to management/ leadership in the current NHS scenario, a very good opportunity to enhance your CV.

Follow the website closely for the Topic and entry dates.

We look forward to seeing our members and would like to cordially invite non members to join us in what promises to be an interesting event.
